‘Consequently, faith comes from hearing the message, and the message is heard through the word about Christ.’

Romans 10:17 (NIV UK)

It is easy to take language and communication for granted – until we are in a situation where it is anything but easy. I remember being in Mexico a few years ago and meeting the team who were working on filming the Gospels in Mexican Sign Language. They were a wonderful group of young people, all deaf and eager that others in the deaf community would have access to the Scriptures in their heart language. Their enthusiasm for the task was infectious.

To enable me to ask them a question and receive an answer, there had to be a sequence of events. I asked the question in English, our translator translated the question into Spanish in her own mind and then signed the question to the group, they responded in sign language, the translator translated that into Spanish in her mind and then into English for me.

After an hour of discussion our translator must have been exhausted! She enabled us to have a great chat though.

The work of translating the Bible into the heart language of the peoples of the world takes a long time and we thank God for those he has gifted with the skills needed for this wonderful task. In this edition of Read and Pray you will read of Bible translations that are nearing completion, so let us stand with the translators and pray them over the finishing line. Then we can share in the joy of those who will benefit from the Bible in the language in which they think and dream.

As ever, thank you so much for partnering with us.
